

My name is Julia Guarasci and I am the lead teacher for the school age kids at Community Center.

About me:

I grew up in South Dansville, and went to Wayland-Cohocton School. I went to Alfred University and studied early childhood/childhood education and I graduated this past May. I am a certified teacher for ages birth through 6th grade. When I start my masters, I am thinking about doing ESL (English as a second language).

I have always gravitated toward teaching others. In school, I liked to help others in my class with homework. The best thing in the world is the look on a student's face when they finally understand something they have struggled with. I get to see that as I work with your kids doing homework at the Community Center.

Fun Fact:

During the first part of quarantine I taught myself how to play guitar.
